The Department of Music is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music and is a vital unit within the School of Visual and Performing Arts in the College of Arts, Social Sciences, and Humanities. The department offers a balanced program of academic courses and performance opportunities including music theory, composition, music history, pedagogy, appreciation, choirs/ensembles and individual applied lessons, all administered by dedicated, expert faculty. A performance audition and theory placement assessment is required.

Large instrumental ensembles include the Symphony Orchestra, the Screaming Eagles Marching Band, the Wind Ensemble, and the Symphonic Band. The jazz program includes the Jazz Orchestra, Jazz Ensemble and jazz combos. Concert Choir (SATB), Choral Union (SATB), and the Treble Chorus (SSA) provide students with opportunities to sing in many styles and genres. Students enhance their performance skills through chamber music groups such as the brass and woodwind quintets, a percussion ensemble, and a small contemporary vocal ensemble. All organizations have toured locally, nationally and internationally. The Jazz Orchestra, Concert Choir, Orchestra, and Wind Ensemble have been invited to perform at state and regional music conferences. All UW-La Crosse students are welcome to audition and perform in any music ensemble regardless of the student’s major.

Please read about applied lessons below (lessons are 1-credit university courses). All music majors and minors receive applied music lessons without additional fees. Any student without a music major or music minor may audition to take applied lessons when studio space is available; an additional lab fee is required for students enrolled in lessons only.

- Students enrolling in the music major must complete the music major core requirements and one or more emphasis areas.
- Students enrolling in education emphases must also complete teacher education requirements found in the School of Education (http://catalog.uwlax.edu/undergraduate/education/).

The below course lists are to be used to meet the requirements of music majors and minors, but non-music majors and minors may also enroll with consent of instructor.

Applied music courses

Applied music courses are open to music majors and minors without an extra fee. Other students may audition to take applied music courses on a space-available basis and must pay an applied music fee.

Placement into intermediate (200 level) and advanced (300 level) courses is determined by audition. Students enrolled in 200- or 300-level lesson (courses) will perform for a Department of Music jury at the close of each semester of instruction. Students enrolled in recital-level courses (400 level) will present a public recital. Students enrolled in 200- and 300-level courses take one private lesson per week (30 to 45-minutes) and will also meet for one class studio lesson per week plus a regularly Department Convocation hour. Students may enroll in a maximum of two applied areas each semester. All applied music courses are one credit.

A music major or minor may enroll for a maximum of nine semesters in a single applied area without paying an extra fee. Of those nine semester credits, only six credits may be earned at the 200 level.

Applied music credits for minors beyond the required four semesters are subject to space availability.

Keyboard Competencies I
This course is designed to prepare students to use the piano as a functional vehicle of expression and as an accompanying instrument. Emphasis will be given to developing physical coordination of keyboard performance skills, building basic piano technique and basic keyboard theory, harmonizing melodies with given chord symbols and by ear, and reading simple piano literature in traditional music notation. Lect. 1, Lab 1. Prerequisite: music major or minor, or concurrent registration in MUS 235. Offered Fall - Even Numbered Years.
MUS 147 Cr.1
Keyboard Competencies II
This course is designed to prepare students to use the piano as a functional vehicle of expression and as an accompanying instrument. Having achieved basic piano technique and reading skills, the emphasis in this course will be to expand the use of the keyboard in practical music education contexts: accompaniments, multiple staff (score) reading and transposition. Students will have opportunities to articulate practice strategies and to assess performances. Practical situations which call for modification of the printed score will also be addressed. Lect. 1, Lab 1. Prerequisite: MUS 146 or consent of instructor. Offered Spring - Odd Numbered Years.

MUS 149 Cr.1
Keyboard Competencies IV
This course prepares students to use the piano as a functional vehicle of expression and as an accompanying instrument. From performance level attained in Keyboard I, students will continue developing physical coordination of keyboard performance skills, building basic technique, applying keyboard theory and harmonizing melodies. Primary emphasis will be to increase performance ability at first sight through practice strategies, musical analysis and several pieces of piano literature. Lect. 1, Lab 1. Prerequisite: MUS 146 or consent of instructor. Offered Fall - Even Numbered Years.

MUS 156 Cr.1
Orchestra I
Large ensemble open to students in all schools and colleges with consent of instructor. A maximum of six credits in all large ensembles may be applied to music major. Repeatable for credit - maximum two. Offered Fall, Spring.

MUS 158 Cr.1
Choral Union I
Large ensemble open to students in all schools and colleges with consent of instructor. A maximum of six credits in all large ensembles may be applied to music major. Repeatable for credit - maximum two. Offered Fall, Spring.

MUS 161 Cr.1
Ensembles
Small ensemble open to students in all schools and colleges with consent of instructor. Requires concurrent enrollment in a large ensemble for music education majors: MUS 106/206/306/406 (Concert Choir), MUS 123/223/323/423 (Treble Chorus), MUS 158/258/358/458 (Choral Union), if choral and general music education major. MUS 100/200/300/400 (Marching Band), MUS 144/244/344/444 (Symphonic Band), MUS 156/256/356/456 (Orchestra), MUS 140/240/340/440 (Wind Symphony), if instrumental and general music education major. A maximum of two credits in all small ensembles may be applied to the music major. Repeatable for credit - maximum two. Offered Fall, Spring.

MUS 173 Cr.1
Class Voice II
This course is a continuation of Class Voice I group instruction on voice. The course is designed to improve each student’s singing voice and further develop the ability to sing successfully in front of others. Individual vocal problems will be assessed, and exercises will be given to improve and strengthen the voice. Students will be singing together as well as individually for class. Prerequisite: MUS 143. Offered Spring.

MUS 200 Cr.1
Screaming Eagles Marching Band II
Large ensemble open to students in all schools and colleges with consent of instructor. A maximum of six credits in all large ensembles may be applied to music major. Not repeatable for credit. Prerequisite: MUS 100. Offered Fall.

MUS 203 Cr.3
Foundations of Music Education
This is a pedagogy course introducing the methodology of teaching in music education. This course will give an overview of chorals, general, and instrumental music education while including philosophical, social, and psychological foundations of teaching music. This course focuses on the methods of planning instruction for student learning, including alignment of objectives, instructions, assessment, and tasks. Utilizing the National Core Music Standards, teacher candidates will begin creating developmentally appropriate lesson plans. Interstate Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium (InTASC) Standards are introduced to create developmentally appropriate instruction and advocacy in music education. Prerequisite: MUS 266, MUS 268; sophomore standing. Offered Spring.

MUS 205 Cr.3
Global Cultures in Music
This course surveys the selected musical traditions of the world. By looking at selected communities in detail, students will better understand that music is, in most cases, connected to culture and cannot be understood without an awareness of cultural contexts. Students will also develop a musical vocabulary and listening skills through exposure to recordings, lectures and assignments about stylistic elements, and analysis. The ability to read music is not required for the course, but it is helpful. The lectures will be supplemented with sound recordings, and will include in-class demonstrations whenever possible. Offered Fall, Spring, Summer.

MUS 206 Cr.1
Concert Choir II
Large ensemble open to students in all schools and colleges with consent of instructor. A maximum of six credits in all large ensembles may be applied to music major. Repeatable for credit - maximum two. Prerequisite: MUS 106; sophomore standing. Offered Fall, Spring.

MUS 209 Cr.3
History of Jazz Culture
A chronological study of the history of jazz from its African/Creole roots to the present with emphasis on ethnic cultural contributions and innovations through listening and selected readings. Offered Fall, Spring.

MUS 211 Cr.2

Travel/Study in Music
Travel courses are conducted to various parts of the nation and world and may be led by one or more faculty members. Course work may include studio/professional practice, research, or seminar topics. Prior trip arrangements, financial deposit, and consent/orientation with International Education (if applicable) are required. May be repeated to different locations. Repeatable for credit - maximum six. Prerequisite: MUS 110 or MUS 205 or ART 102 or ART 251; concurrent enrollment in ART 360; sophomore standing. Consent of instructor. Offered Occasionally.
MUS 378 Cr.3
Advanced Instrumental Conducting & Field Experience I
This class includes an integrated field experience with instrumental conducting. In the field experience, candidates will learn about the complex processes of planning instrumental music instruction, engaging K-12 learners, and assessing student learning. Conducting topics include baton technique, score analysis and preparation, and interpretation. Students will study band and orchestral literature in relation to its performance and practice. This course will teach students how to connect on a higher level with young musicians through advanced score preparation and provide an array of effective rehearsal techniques and teaching strategies. A multi-day, consistent schedule in the field experience classroom will be established by the course instructor in consultation with the teacher candidate and cooperating teacher. Prerequisite: MUS 203, MUS 211, MUS 370; admission to teacher education. Consent of department. Offered Fall - Odd Numbered Years.

MUS 379 Cr.3
Advanced Choral Conducting & Field Experience I
This class includes an integrated field experience with choral conducting. In the field experience, candidates will learn about the complex processes of planning choral music instruction, engaging K-12 learners, and assessing student learning. This class includes the study of advanced problems in choral conducting, and a more advanced approach into effective rehearsal techniques in the choral classroom. Topics covered will include refining the conducting gesture, score preparation, score analysis, interpretation, rehearsal techniques, and proper procedures. This course will teach students how to connect on a higher level with young musicians through advanced score preparation and provide an array of effective rehearsal techniques and teaching strategies. A multi-day, consistent schedule in the field experience classroom will be established by the course instructor in consultation with the teacher candidate and cooperating teacher. Prerequisite: MUS 203, MUS 211, MUS 370; admission to teacher education. Consent of department. Offered Fall - Even Numbered Years.

MUS 383 Cr.4
Choral Music in the Schools and Field Experience II
This combined methods and field experience course is designed to provide students with the basic principles and techniques of choral preparation and performance in relation to public school choral ensembles. This course specifically addresses vocal production in young voices, choral sound, repertoire, and vocal pedagogy. This course will also include the second field component required for all education majors. Students will practice these issues in the field concurrently with class peer discussion. A multi-day, consistent schedule in the field experience classroom will be established by the course instructor in consultation with the teacher candidate and cooperating teacher. Prerequisite: MUS 379; admission to teacher education. Consent of department. Offered Spring - Odd Numbered Years.

MUS 384 Cr.4
Instrumental Music in the Schools and Field Experience II
This combined methods and field experience course is designed to provide teacher candidates with opportunities to understand and develop practices related to instrumental music and its role in a 6-12 classroom. Administrative approaches, rehearsal techniques, modern comprehensive teaching styles, classroom management, and conflict resolution for the secondary instrumental teacher will be addressed. Students will practice these issues in the field concurrently with class peer discussion. A multi-day, consistent schedule in the field experience classroom will be established by the course instructor in consultation with the teacher candidate and cooperating teacher. Prerequisite: MUS 378; admission to teacher education. Consent of department. Offered Spring - Odd Numbered Years.
