

Cooperative Education and Internships

Internships help students integrate the classroom with practical experience through work related to their academic and occupational goals. These experiences, for which a student can receive credit, include working for regional, national, and international businesses, government agencies, and community and non-profit organizations.

To participate in the Cooperative Education and Internship Program, students must meet grade point average and course prerequisites. Students must be at their internship site during the academic term for which they are registered for internship credit. Thirty internship credits may be taken and recorded on the academic record; however, no more than 15 credits are applicable to a degree. Students should contact the Career Services Office (<https://www.uwlax.edu/aaccs/>) to learn more.

UWL's full internship policy (<https://www.uwlax.edu/records/academic-policies/#tab-50345>) is posted online.

See below for a list of UWL academic departments offering internship credit and the corresponding course, and see the Courses tab for the courses used in university-wide internships and off-campus cooperative internships. For more information, contact the specific department or Career Services (<https://www.uwlax.edu/aaccs/>), 1209 Centennial Hall, 608.785.8514.

This section does not apply to internships in teacher certification programs, health, exercise and sport science non-teaching programs, nutrition, recreation, or graduate programs.
