GPA requirements and additional information

- Undergraduate students who are pursuing the minor-to-master's pathway will take nine credits of REC electives at the 500-level after they have completed 75 undergraduate credits. Graduate credit will count toward both the undergraduate minor and Recreation Management Graduate Program requirements.
- Students must have and maintain a minimum cumulative undergraduate GPA of 2.85/4.0 to enroll in the 500-level courses and maintain a minimum cumulative graduate GPA of 3.0/4.0.
- Final admission to the Recreation Management Graduate Program is contingent upon completion of all undergraduate major program requirements.

- All majors may only pursue one REC minor-to-master's pathway. If selecting the outdoor and recreation management minor-to-master's pathway, all majors may pursue this pathway except for recreational therapy majors who should pursue the pathway for recreational therapy majors (<http://catalog.uwlax.edu/undergraduate/recreationmanagement/outdoorandrecreationmanagementminor-to-mastersrecreationmanagementpathwayforrecreationaltherapy/>) if interested.
- Students completing the outdoor and recreation management minor-to-master's pathway may also complete the regular tourism and event management minor; however, 12 unique credits of coursework are required for each minor.
